

Manufacturing With a conscience

Friday, May 20th, 2016

Dear customer,

We are extremely pleased to introduce this new line of factory coated cedar shingles:

EcoBleach™

We understand that there is an overwhelming demand for products that are environmentally friendly, green and quite honestly, healthier for Mother Earth. In that focus, the EcoBleach™ offers all that consumers love about the existing “Bleaching Oil” formula, but produced with acrylic latex and instead of oil.

We know what you may be wondering... Does this mean that we can no longer purchase Weathering Stain™ and Bleaching Oil from Waska? No at all!

- We are currently in the final testing stages of creating an Earth Friendly Weathering Stain™ with a latex acrylic base. However, for the time being we will continue producing the original Weathering Stain™, as it is one of our top sellers.
- In regards to the oil base Bleaching Oil, we will also continue to produce it. However, we do encourage you to make the transition to the new EcoBleach™.

Features

- ✓ Protects and enhances the wood
- ✓ Advanced SunBlock® UV defense
- ✓ Extends color life
- ✓ Provides a superb mildew resistant coating
- ✓ Low VOC 0.7lbs/gal (81g/L)

We invite you to contact us to order your sample package today.

Happy selling!

The Waska Factory Coating Team
